Students and teachers from all partners' teams visiting the School 195

In October 2019 all school -partners' teams- 20 students and their teachers worked in our school, as part of the collaboration for the Erasmus + program on the multi-facet personality of Ioannis Kapodistrias. At School No.195 the event was also attended by the German Ambassador to Romania, a representative of the Greek community in Romania and a representative of the Greek Consulate in Bucharest. Romanian teachers and students guided the partners in Bucharest's major city sights. Students had a training workshop in the school. During the workshop, architects instructed students to construct a model of the Manuc's Inn building, where Kapodistrias signed official documents when visiting Bucharest. Students and teachers visited the building of the Romanian Parliament. It is the largest building in Europe and the second largest in the world after the American Pentagon. There, the students had the opportunity to discuss with and ask interesting questions to a Member of Parliament. Students visited the Bran Castle, also known as "Count Dracula's Castle". Afterwards they were guided to the castle of the family of Cantacuzino.

At the National Bank of Romania they were informed about the history of the currency and the commercial relations of the Romanian region from antiquity to the present day. Afterwards they visited the museum of Theodor Aman, one of the most important Romanian painters of the 19th century. It is the home of the painter, adorned by his masterpieces.

On the last day of the visit to Bucharest students and teachers were hosted by Romania students in their classrooms and followed the teaching process. The participants provided important information on teaching methods in Romanian schools. Students received questions from Romanian students and debated on the similarities and differences of their educational systems. They received handmade gifts, creations by the younger students of the school. The study visit ended with the award of medals and certificates of participation in the programme. This experience has enabled our students to improve their language skills, appreciate the value of knowledge and cooperation, broaden their horizons and make new friends. Knowledge, images and strong emotions are what they gained from their meeting to Bucharest, at School No. 195.
